

CREATING YOUR LEGACY

Why Education Matters

The Struggle Continues

Black enrollments in higher education are at an all-time high. But nationwide the black student college graduation rate remains dismally low, at a level of about 45 percent. The black student college graduation rate is about 20 percentage points lower than the rate for whites.

Join AABE and Sam Burston, Regional Development Director for the United Negro College Fund, as we discuss why “A Mind is a Terrible Thing to Waste,” our future energy leaders and award scholarships to the Class of 2010.
